FOREWORD

'Twas on the inner bark,
stripped from the pine,
Our father's pencilled this
epistle rare;
Two blazing pine knots
did his torches shine
Two braided pallets formed his desk and chair.

College Song

Davenport, our college fair
Mid thy pines a stately queen.
Loving thee with hearts that dare
Loyal shall we e'er be seen.
Davenport, our hearts' delight,
Queen most excellently bright.

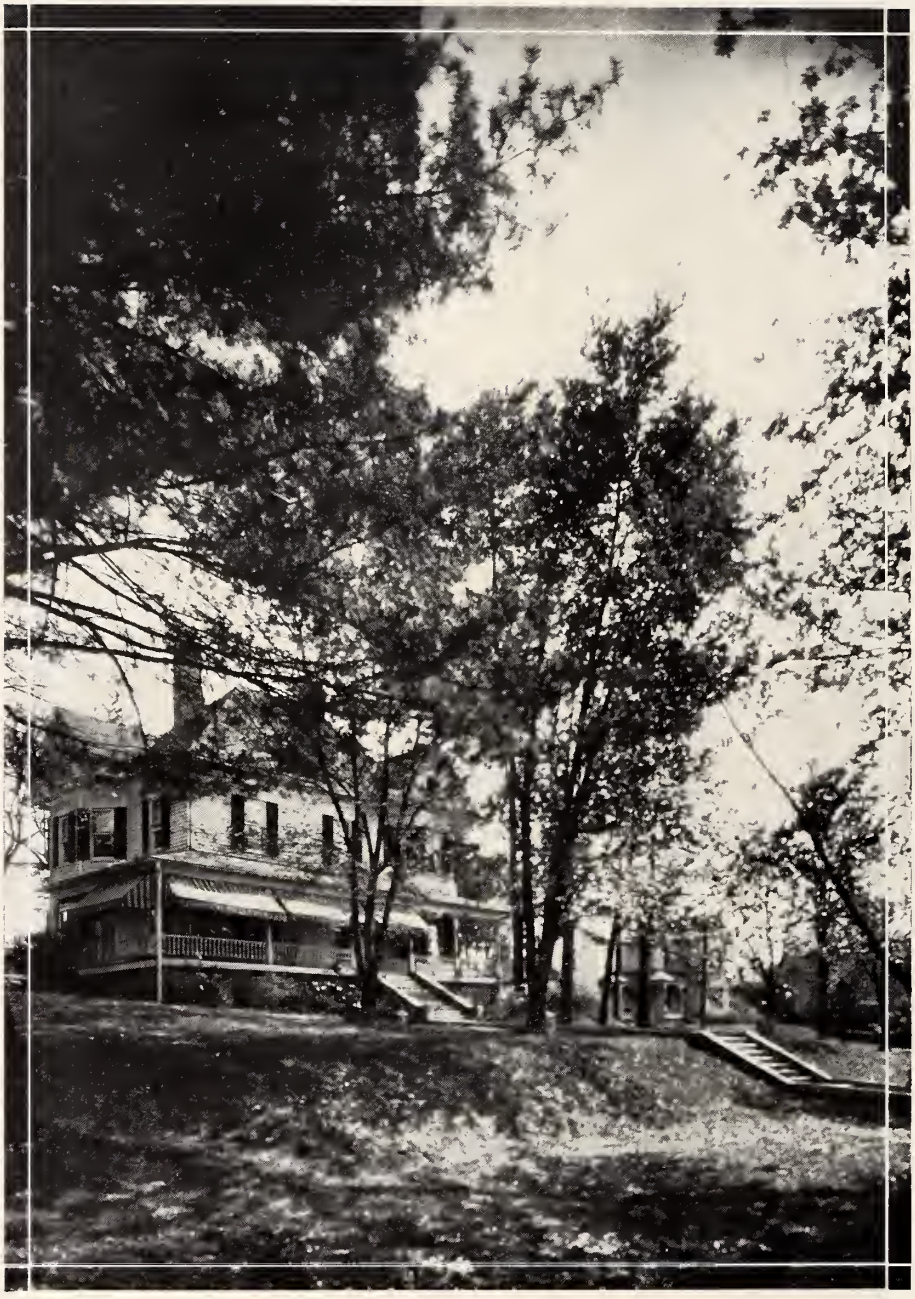
Throned on thy classic hill,
Calm thy gaze from year to year,
While thy children honor still
Earth has not a spot more dear.
Davenport, our hearts' delight
Queen most excellently bright.

Davenport, our shining queen,
We shall e'er thy mandates keep,
Ever stand in sunlit sheen
Of love so clear and deep
Davenport, our hearts' delight,
Queen most excellently bright.

All below is strength, and all above is grace.—DRYDEN.

This door will open at a touch and welcome every friend.—Van Dyke.

"There I find personal themes a plenteous store"—WHITTIER.



These shades are still the abodes of gladness.—William Cullen Bryant.

"Don't Be Selfish — Have a Camel"

Knowledge

Like a sunbeam turns night into crystal day
Making clear the shapes of dim outline,
So into some hearts there falls a ray,
A desire to understand that is divine.

Perhaps the ray was there 'ere Time was old,
Handed down as priceless heritage,
Or borne within a flower's heart of gold,
Or in the words of some immortal sage.

Lines are spent in granting this desire,
To rise above the common things of life
To know the secret in the rose's briar.
To understand a wise man's bitterest strife.

But in the search for knowledge high, supreme,
In knowing all that infinite truth can give
There lies the end of all things as they seem,
In knowing to lift, to love, to live.

JOSEPHINE WORTH

JEFFERSON, N. C.

"Never serious, forever gay,
A good happy, sport in every way."

Tim Society, '28-29; Y. W. C. A. (Treas.) '28-29; Vice-President Home Economics Club, '28; Hiker's Club, '28; Circulation Manager Hilltop Echoes, '29; Robin Goodfellow Club, '29; Current Event Club.

You cannot guess I know—
What has happened to our "Jo."
She owns a picture show.
Life dims not her "laughing eyes,"
In "just living" she has found paradise.

RUTH ALLEN WORTH

JEFFERSON, N. C.

"Her aim is never to offend,
And every person is her friend."

Tim, '28-'29; Student Council (2nd Vice President) '29; Robin Goodfellow, '29; French Club, '29; Current Event Club.

More of heaven than earth, she lives like a flower dreaming for a space of her nectared sweetness gives. We read her Godly life in her lovely face.

MAE YOUNG

BURNSVILLE, N. C.

"We leave thy praises unexpressed,
We leave thy greatness to be guessed."

Y. W., Masquers.

Gloriously happy she is,
This dainty phantom miss.
For dramatic critics love and adore
For "Miss Young" to take the floor.
